1/ Thread:

Child sex trafficking—by elites—is a horrible reality.

Below, I outline the case for this claim. Please share with friends so they can wake up.

Favor? After each tweet, please post the most persuasive online evidence you know of.

> There is proof of all this. <

2/ Begin with Jeffrey Epstein. His circle of friends features some of the most famous people in the world. People like Bill Clinton, Bill Gates, Prince Andrew, even Donald Trump. Look up the "Lolita Express" flight log and his black book. Quite a stunning social circle, really.

3/ He was arrested (twice) because he was a pedophile who abused many teen girls. He had an island in the Caribbean in which this took place, which, by all credible accounts, was visited by many of his famous friends.

4/ There is courtroom evidence that Epstein's friends sexually abused the teen girls he collected, who as young as 12 were basically sex slaves.

5/ But I'm just scratching the surface, here. There are hair-curling claims about a "temple" on his island and rites performed in the hill underneath it. You don't have to believe that, to be shocked by Epstein's circle. But the occult connections keeps recurring, disturbingly.

6/ This is what you've heard and (if you're like most people) probably already forgotten about. But we are not even close to being done.

Did you know that ABC News had this story in 2016, and covered it up? They did. Everyone knows that, too, but few are talking about it.

7/ Did you know that it was covered up in a different way last 2008, when Epstein was sentenced to a mere slap on the wrist?

Why on earth, in the name of all that is holy? "Because he's so powerful and has powerful friends to protect," you say.

8/ Right. Think about that. Hard.

More of the story came out last summer. But no one else has been jailed, not even Epstein's chief accomplice, Ghislaine Maxwell, whose location is unknown. Few in the scandal-crazed media....seem to care much. That's weird, isn't it?

9/ We the people would learn much more about the suspects and allegations if more court documents were unsealed. But massive numbers of Epstein case documents have been sealed. The court system is protecting the guilty—again, as they did in 2008.

They do that a lot, turns out.

10/ Now, think. This doesn't take evidence, it takes a little bit of brave thinking.

What must our beloved and distinguished world of famous, rich, and powerful people be like, if Epstein's friends (THOSE people!) are violating teen sex slaves—and the courts protect them?

11/ It sure sounds like (a) many of the Beautiful People know about child sex trafficking by elites, (b) some participate in it, and (c) the media and courts cover it up.

"But...systematically? Do they really? Surely not," you say.

Sadly this happens over...and over...and over.

12/ Look these up:

NOTE: separate tweet below for each!

The Catholic Church, Pedowood, underage groupies, Jimmy Savile, Rotherham, CPS disappearances, the Kinsey Institute, John of God, NXIVM, the Finders, Marc Dutroux, Laura Silsby...and yes, Pizzagate.

13/ The Catholic Church has had massive numbers of pedophiles. They never go away. Why not? Why don't the police move in on them? Why has it gone on for generations? And there's evidence it's condoned, yes, condoned and organized, within the Church.
